TransTech Systems, a subsidiary of Visualant, to attend the Security Industry Association's Government Summit in Washington, DC.

Seattle, WA. – June 22, 2011, Visualant, Inc. (OTCBB: VSUL), a pioneer provider of industry-leading color based identification and diagnostic solutions, an emerging leader in security and authentication systems technology and distributor of a wide variety of security solutions through its wholly-owned subsidiary, TransTech Systems, Inc., is pleased to announce that TransTech Systems will be attending the Security Industry Association's (SIA) Government Summit on June 21-22, 2011 in Washington, DC.

The 2011 SIA Government Summit is one of the leading public policy conferences for the security industry. With a diverse audience including manufacturers, distributors, dealers, and end-users, the summit is always an ideal place to learn about legislative and regulatory proposals. The two day SIA Government Summit will consist of keynote speakers with diverse topics and a public policy dinner.

TransTech Systems (www.ttsys.com) will be attending the SIA Government Summit as a co-sponsor with Farpointe Data. Farpointe Data is the manufacturer of the DHSP-1000 field programmer, which allows for 26 bit Wiegand HID, AWID, and Pyramid-compatible credentials to be programmed onsite or in the field, and is designed specifically for use by the U.S. Government and Department of Homeland Security.

Jim Gingo, President of TransTech Systems, Inc. and serving as the Chairman of the Government Summit Planning Committee for 2011, states "The SIA Government Summit is an unsurpassed event to gain valuable knowledge about the essential policies imperative to the security industry." Jim Gingo, as well as other TransTech Systems Representatives, will be attending the SIA Government Summit this year.

About Visualant, Inc.

Visualant, Inc. (OTCBB:VSUL and www.visualant.net) develops low-cost, high speed, light-based security and quality control solutions for use in homeland security, anti-counterfeiting, forgery/fraud prevention, brand protection and process control applications. Our patent-pending technology uses controlled illumination with specific bands of light, to establish a unique spectral signature for both individual and classes of items. When matched against existing databases, these spectral signatures allow precise identification and authentication of any item or substance. This breakthrough optical sensing and data capture technology is called Spectral Pattern Matching ("SPM"). SPM technology can be miniaturized and is easily integrated into a variety of hand-held or fixed mount configurations, and can be combined in the same package as a bar-code or biometric scanner.

Through its wholly owned subsidiary, TransTech Systems, Inc., the Company provides security and authentication solutions to security and law enforcement markets throughout the United States.
